Book Club's April Announcement

Dear Past Students,

Annual Book Talk in March

Our annual on-campus Book Talk held on 18 March 2017 was a big success! Under the facilitation of Sister Mary Olga Lam MIC, our cozy group of 27 participants enjoyed a fruitful afternoon exploring “The Little Prince” by Antoine de Saint-Exupéry. Every one shared how the book resonates with them, and brought home a new book from our BookCrossing counter. Here are some of the feedbacks from fellow participants:

Virginia Chi: Thanks Sr. Mary for taking book sharing to a different level; opening new windows, and shedding light on how to appreciate this wonderful classic tale by Antoine de Saint-Exupery.

Lucia Siu: Deeply impressed by Sr. Mary's deep-thought analysis like “See the invisible, we need to use our heart”, “Remember brings feelings, feelings will associate ideas”, “Be hand-in-hand with your tamed partner”. Really hoped that Sr. Mary would deliver further sharing to help our book club members to enhance “How to do in-depth reading”.

Annette Leung: Sr. Mary is very intelligent. Her incredible life experience gives her wisdom. On the other hand. She is non compromising with strong personality.

Cindy Ng: Sr. Mary upholds the idea of including audience in the Little Prince reading discussion. I am impressed by this idea. By splitting us up into small groups randomly, the sharing of insights and comments among past students of different years became more efficient, so was the sharing of their lives and experiences.

The photos of the events are now available on PSA's website and Facebook Page. Do leave a comment on our Facebook Page and share with us your feedback for the Book Talk!

April's Book Club Meeting

This April, we sprinkle the Easter month with a pinch of mystery through British writer Mark Haddon's award winning novel "The Curious Incident of the Dog in the Night-Time". Join us and let's resolve this mysterious case of dog murder together!
