May Book Club Meeting

'I summarized "The Stranger" a long time ago, with a remark I admit was highly paradoxical: "In our society any man who does not weep at his mother's funeral runs the risk of being sentenced to death." I only meant that the hero of my book is condemned because he does not play the game.' - Albert Camus

Join us and explore Camus' version of absurdism and existentialism in this simple story, as his protagonist experienced alienation and liberation, emotionally and socially, through a series of deaths.
